Why Get Rich?

It is not possible to live a really complete or successful life unless one has complete financial freedom. Success in life is becoming what you want to be. There is nothing wrong in wanting to get rich.

You must get rid of the idea that there is a supreme being whose “will” it is that you should be poor or whose purposes may be served by keeping you in poverty. You must want real life, not mere pleasure or sensual gratification. Life is the performance of function, and the individual really lives only when he performs every function — physical, mental, and spiritual. You do not want to get rich solely to enjoy mental pleasures or for the good of others. You want to get rich in order that you may love others and do kind things, and be able to play a good part in helping the world to find truth.

There is a science to getting rich, like algebra or arithmetic. The ownership of money and property comes as a result of doing things in a certain way. Anybody can get rich no matter his or her background. Getting rich involves the necessity of dealing with people. People get rich in every business and in every profession.

No one is deprived of opportunity. People are not being “kept down” by others; they are not being “ground down” by the government or big business.

The Formless Substance

Everything you see on earth is made from one original substance, a formless substance. There is no limit to the supply of formless stuff, or original substance. The formless stuff is intelligent; it is stuff which thinks.

Thought is the only power, which can produce tangible riches from the formless substance. Every thought of form, held in thinking substance, causes the creation of the form, but always, or at least generally, along lines of growth and action already established.

There is a thinking stuff from which all things are made, and which, in its original state, permeates, penetrates, and fills the interspaces of the universe. A thought in this substance produces the thing that is imaged by the thought. A person can form things in his thought, and, by impressing his thought upon formless substance, can cause the thing he thinks about to be created.

Creative Vs. Competitive Plane

You are to become a creator, not a competitor. Riches secured on the competitive plane are never satisfactory and permanent. They are yours today and another’s tomorrow.

KNOW that the money will come. Never look at the visible supply. Look always at the limitless riches in formless substance, and KNOW that they are coming to you as fast as you can receive and use them.

Do not deal with other people unfairly. Give everyone more in use value than you take from him in cash value.

Gratitude

The first step toward getting rich is to convey the idea of your wants to the formless substance. In order to do so it becomes necessary to relate yourself to the formless intelligence in a harmonious way. To secure this harmonious relation can be summed up in one word:

GRATITUDE.

First, you believe that there is one intelligent substance, from which all things proceed. Second, you believe that this substance gives you everything you desire. And third, you relate yourself to it by a feeling of deep and profound gratitude. Many people who order their lives rightly in all other ways are kept in poverty by their lack of gratitude.

Gratitude will keep you in close harmony with creative thought and prevent you from falling into competitive thought. Gratitude alone can prevent you from falling into the error of thinking the supply is limited — and to do that would be fatal to your hopes.

Fix your attention on the best, surround yourself with the best, and you will become the best.

Without gratitude you cannot keep from being dissatisfied with things as they are.

Be grateful for everything you experience, even so called “Failures.” A failure can lead to something much better and that seeming failure will really be a great success.

Your Vision

You must form a clear and definite mental picture of what you want.

Once you have clearly formed your vision, the whole matter turns to receiving. When you have formed it address it with gratitude.

To get rich, you need only to use your will power upon yourself.

Since your thoughts are very important, it is in your best interest to guard your thoughts, and as your beliefs will be shaped to a very great extent by the things you observe and think about, it is important that you should carefully govern to what you give your attention.

You cannot retain a true and clear vision of wealth if you are constantly turning your attention to opposing pictures, whether they are external or imaginary.

You should interest yourself in everyone becoming rich.

Personal Action

Thinking in a certain way will bring riches to you, but you must not rely upon thought alone, without personal action you can't receive the riches that will come. Do not give your creative impulse to original substance, and then sit down and wait for results.

There is a thinking stuff from which all things are made, and which, in its original state, permeates, penetrates, and fills the interspaces of the universe. A thought in this substance produces the thing that is imaged by the thought. A person can form things in his thought, and, by impressing his thought upon formless substance, can cause the thing he thinks about to be created. In order to do this, a person must pass from the competitive to the creative mind; he must form a clear mental picture of the things he wants, and hold this picture in his thoughts with the fixed PURPOSE to get what he wants, and the unwavering FAITH that he does get what he wants, closing his mind to all that may tend to shake his purpose, dim his vision, or quench his faith. So that he may receive what he wants when it comes, a person must act NOW upon the people and things in his present environment.

The Impression Of Increase

Every day is either a successful day or a day of failure, and it is the successful days that get you what you want. If every day is a failure you can never get rich, while if every day is a success, you cannot fail to get rich. If there is something that may be done today and you do not do it, you have failed insofar as that thing is concerned — and the consequences may be more disastrous than you imagine.

Since your business consists in dealing with other people, whether personally or online, the key thought of all your efforts must be to convey to their minds the impression of increase. No matter how small the transaction, put into it the thought of increase.

Remember this statement: "What I want for myself, I want for everybody.”

No matter what profession you are in if you can give increase of life to others and make them sensible of that fact, they will be attracted to you, and you will get rich.

The more people who get rich on the competitive plane, the worse for others. The more who get rich on the creative plane, the better for others.

A Word Of Caution

Many people will scoff at the idea that there is an exact science of getting rich. Do not let them make you waiver in your belief. If you do fall into old ways of thought, correct yourself instantly.

Summary

There is a thinking stuff from which all things are made and which, in its original state, permeates, penetrates, and fills the interspaces of the universe. A thought in this substance produces the thing that is imaged by the thought. A person can form things in his thought, and by impressing his thought upon formless substance can cause the thing he thinks about to be created. In order to do this, a person must pass from the competitive to the creative mind. Otherwise he cannot be in harmony with formless intelligence, which is always creative and never competitive in spirit.

A person may come into full harmony with the formless substance by entertaining a lively and sincere gratitude for the blessings it bestows upon him. Gratitude unifies the mind of man with the intelligence of substance, so that man's thoughts are received by the formless. A person can remain upon the creative plane only by uniting himself with the formless intelligence through a deep and continuous feeling of gratitude. A person must form a clear and definite mental image of the things he wishes to have, to do, or to become, and he must hold this mental image in his thoughts, while being deeply grateful to the supreme that all his desires are granted to him.

The person who wishes to get rich must spend his leisure hours in contemplating his vision, and in earnest thanksgiving that the reality is being given to him. Too much stress cannot be laid on the importance of frequent contemplation of the mental image, coupled with unwavering faith and devout gratitude. This is the process by which the impression is given to the formless and the creative forces set in motion. The creative energy works through the established channels of natural growth, and of the industrial and social order. All that is included in his mental image will surely be brought to the person who follows the instructions given above, and whose faith does not waver. What he wants will come to him through the ways of established trade and commerce. In order to receive his own when it is ready to come to him, a person must be in action in a way that causes him to move more than fill his present place.

He must keep in mind the purpose to get rich through realization of his mental image. And he must do, every day, all that can be done that day, taking care to do each act in a successful manner. He must give to every person a use value in excess of the cash value he receives, so that each transaction makes for more life, and he must hold the advancing thought so that the impression of increase will be communicated to all with whom he comes into contact. The men and women who practice the foregoing instructions will certainly get rich, and the riches they receive will be in exact proportion to the definiteness of their vision, the fixity of their purpose, the steadiness of their faith, and the depth of their gratitude.
